For what purpose and legitimacy do we process your personal data?

- Manage the sending of the requested information through the email available in the delegations section of the website. We may process your data because we have a legitimate interest in attending to the communications necessary to carry out our activity.
- To manage the sending of commercial communications about the company's products and/or services. We may process your data for this purpose if you give us your consent.

How long will we keep your personal data?

Your data will be kept for the time necessary to fulfill the purposes indicated and, duly blocked, during the longest limitation period in accordance with the applicable legislation.

To which recipients will your data be communicated?

Your data will not be transferred to third parties. Your data may be communicated to our data processors when necessary for the correct provision of services.

Will your data be transferred to third countries?

No International Data Transfers will be made.

What are your rights when you provide us with your personal data?

- Access: right to obtain confirmation as to whether we are processing your personal data or not, namely what they are, what they are used for, how long they will be stored, the origin of the same and whether they have been communicated or will be communicated to a third party.
- Rectification: right to request rectification of inaccurate data and completion of incomplete personal data.
- Deletion: right to request the deletion of personal data when they are inadequate, excessive or no longer necessary for the purposes for which they were collected, including the right to be forgotten.
- Opposition: right to object, in certain circumstances, to the processing of your personal data or to request that the processing be ceased.
- Limitation of Treatment: right to request, in the circumstances established by law, that your data not be processed beyond the mere conservation thereof.
- Portability: the right to receive personal data in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and to be able to transmit them to another controller, whenever technically possible.
- Right to withdraw consent. You can withdraw your consent at any time. If you withdraw it, the data processing that has been carried out previously will continue to be valid.
